Male urinary incontinence is recognized by the World Health Organization as a chronic disease, which decisively affects people's quality of life in social situations, as well as physically, sexually, psychologically and professionally.

Belt Manufactured with lightweight and high quality sanitary materials, which exert the correct pressure without causing discomfort.

Precise adjustment on the penis.
Ridged belt for convenient positioning and adjustment.

Activation of pressure to the urethra
It functions by blocking the urethra in such a way as to prevent involuntary urine leakage.

Belt adjustment lever
A safety system that allows the belt to be fixed in the optimum position and ensures control by means of a fitted closure.

HAREX is a medical device that is placed just below the head of the penis and by gentle pressure on the urethra, stops the flow of urine, preventing and controlling involuntary leakage of urine.

It's small, comfortable and fully adjustable!

Comfort Harex is designed to be worn for many hours without discomfort. You won't notice it, and they won't notice it.

Easy to use You can place and adjust the device without anyone helping you, so you can be completely autonomous.

100% plastic materials Made entirely of sanitary latex-free plastic material.

Easy cleaning Just apply warm water and soap. It does not contain metallic pieces which can oxidize or generate dermatological problems.
